1. Aims

The aims of relationships and sex education (RSE) at our school are to:

- › Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
- › Prepare pupils for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene
- › Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy
- › Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
- › Teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies
- › to know about the risks of being online and how to stay safe from exploitation
- › to support all young people for life in modern Britain
- › Support the school's ethos of promoting and teaching fundamental Jewish values of family life, respect for parents, teachers, elders and fellow men, of respect for standards, discipline, morality, faith and tradition.

2. Statutory requirements

The Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education and Health Education (England) Regulations 2019 made under sections 34 and 35 of the Children and Social Work Act 2017 make Relationships Education compulsory for all pupils receiving primary education and Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) compulsory for all pupils receiving secondary education. The regulations also make Health Education compulsory in Academies. As a secondary academy school we must provide RSE to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

In teaching RSE, we are required by our funding agreements to have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

At King David High School we teach RSE as set out in this policy.

3. Policy development

This policy has been developed in consultation with governors, the SLT and PSHE Lead

4. Definition

RSE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

RSE involves a combination of sharing information, and exploring issues and values.

RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

5. Curriculum

Our curriculum is set out as per Appendix 1 but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents, pupils and staff, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner so they are fully informed and don't seek answers online.

For more information about our curriculum, see our curriculum map in Appendix 1.

6. Delivery of RSE

RSE is taught within the school's Learning for Life curriculum. This is taught across all years from Year 7 to 11, with age-appropriate lessons. Learning for Life is delivered through a combination of timetabled lessons, as timetabled lessons in carousels and through off-timetable Learning for Life days. Biological aspects of RSE are taught within the science curriculum, and other aspects are included in religious studies (RS). Some themes might also be covered in assemblies or presentations to larger groups by external facilitators.

All lessons are fully differentiated to allow access for learners of all abilities, including those with special educational needs. It is the school's policy not to withdraw young people with special educational needs from RSE to catch up on other national curriculum subjects, as we believe that these aspects of personal and social development are as important as academic achievement.

Pupils also receive stand-alone healthy relationships, abuse and consent education sessions delivered by an outside agency, Jewish Women's Aid.

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices 1 and 2.

RSE focuses on giving young people the information they need to help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds including:

➤ Families

- › Respectful relationships, including friendships
- › Online and media
- › Being safe
- › Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices 1 and 2.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances (families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures) along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers).

The school also recognises that some aspects of RSE must be taught by specialists. From time to time the school will invite professional health experts in to deliver issues relating to RSE.

These will be asked to conform to the following:

- › Visitors contributing to RSE will do so at the invitation of the school and will be qualified to make an appropriate contribution
- › Visitors must agree with the aims of the school in delivering its policy on RSE
- › When in class visitors will be supervised by a teacher who will be present at all times
- › Visitors will follow the school's safeguarding procedures if a disclosure occurs within the classroom setting
- › Visitors will know and understand where their contribution fits into the school's programme for RSE and Citizenship

Pupils' questions will be answered by teachers honestly but not referring to personal experience. Answers will endeavour to reflect different sides of an argument if the topic is one of debate. Staff are to provide information and guidance but not instruction.

Due to the nature of the topics discussed, teachers will be flexible in their approach to discussions and will respond to students' individual needs and circumstances. It is inevitable that discussions may broaden and branch off from the planned content, especially in relation to pupil's questions and experiences and so a wider context may be discussed within lessons.

If a pupil discloses information which is of concern with regards child protection, the procedure outlined in the Safeguarding policy will take place. Dialogue between the RSE team and pastoral staff will ensure that any pupils who are thought to be 'at risk' are supported through sensitive discussion of topics. Pupils are also able to take a timeout if a topic is in anyway distressing for them. They will not be made to discuss this, rather they will be offered support if wanted.

As with any learning, the assessment of young people's personal, social and emotional development is important. It provides information that indicates their progress and achievement informs the development of the programme. Young people do not pass or fail in this area of learning, but have the opportunity to reflect on their own learning and personal experiences, and set personal goals to reach them. This process of reflective assessment has a positive impact on young people's self-awareness and self-esteem, and there are opportunities to record learning and progress in different ways. We will assess pupil's learning through; in class question and answer, discussion, group work, peer assessment, self-assessment, and a whole-school pupil survey at the end of each academic year.

RSE Policy Addendum, September 2025

6. Delivery of RSE

RSE is taught within the school's Learning for Life curriculum. This is taught across all years from Year 7 to 11, with age-appropriate lessons. Learning for Life is delivered through a combination of timetabled lessons, as timetabled lessons in carousels and through off-timetable Learning for Life days. Biological aspects of RSE are taught within the science curriculum, and other aspects are included in religious studies (RS). Some themes might also be covered in assemblies or presentations to larger groups by external facilitators.

All lessons are fully accessible for learners of all abilities, including those with special educational needs. It is the school's policy not to withdraw young people with special educational needs from RSE to catch up on other national curriculum subjects, as we believe that these aspects of personal and social development are as important as academic achievement.

RSE focuses on giving young people the information they need to help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds, not just intimate relationships, including:

- › Families
- › Respectful relationships, including friendships
- › Online safety and awareness
- › Being safe
- › Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health

RSE complements several other curriculum subjects. Where appropriate, the school will look for opportunities to make links between the subjects and integrate teaching.

Within the KDHS Main School, the RSE curriculum will be delivered by appropriately trained qualified teachers of the KDHS staff. Within Yavneh Girls and Yavneh Boys, the RSE curriculum will be delivered by appropriately trained qualified teachers of the Yavneh Kodesh staff.

Teachers will make sure that pupils understand the importance of equality and respect, and learn about the law relating to the protected characteristics, as set out in the Equality Act 2010, by the end of their secondary education. The curriculum is designed to focus on pupils of all gender identities and expressions, and activities will be planned to make sure all are actively involved.

Throughout each year group we will use appropriate material to assist learning, such as:

- › Diagrams
- › Videos
- › Books
- › Games
- › Discussions and practical activities

Teachers will make sure that all pupils' views are listened to and will encourage them to ask questions and engage in discussion. Teachers will answer questions sensitively, honestly and appropriately for the age of the pupils.

The programme will be designed to focus on boys as much as girls, and activities will be planned to make sure both are actively involved.

The school will make sure that all teaching and materials are appropriate for the ages and needs of the pupils including any additional needs, such as special educational needs and disabilities (SEND).

Within the KDHS Main School, the RSE curriculum content and resources will be formally assessed prior to use by the school's RSE lead, in consultation with the Main School Jewish Studies department over any lessons deemed to be sensitive from a religious/traditional perspective. Within Yavneh Girls and Yavneh Boys, the RSE curriculum will mirror the topics delivered within the Mains School, but all curriculum content and resources will be formally assessed by a religious teacher, and amended to reflect and respect the religious sensitivities of Yavneh pupils, prior to use.

At all points of delivery of the curriculum, the school will consult parents and carers, and their views will be valued. What will be taught and how will be planned in conjunction with parents and carers.

Pupils' learning will be assessed by classroom teachers within lessons. Methods of assessment for learning will include whole-class questioning, targeted questioning, quizzes and polls, mini-plenaries and plenaries.

It is important for secondary pupils to know what the law says about certain topics covered in RSE, particularly in relation to the law and young people. This will help pupils identify what is right and wrong, and can provide a foundation of knowledge for deeper discussion. These topics include, but are not limited to:

- › Marriage, including forced marriage and civil partnerships
- › Consent, including the age of consent
- › Domestic abuse, stalking, rape, sexual offences and female genital mutilation (FGM), 'virginity testing' and hymenoplasty
- › Sexual abuse, harassment and exploitation, including public sexual harassment and harmful sexual behaviour
- › Online behaviours including image and information sharing (including sexual imagery, youth-produced sexual imagery and including AI-generated sexual imagery and deepfakes). Pupils should understand the law about online sexual harassment and online sexual abuse, including grooming and sextortion

- › Pornography
- › Abortion
- › The protected characteristics
- › The age of criminal responsibility

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices 1 and 2.

We may amend our curriculum content to respond to the needs and context of our pupils, to discuss issues affecting them in an age-appropriate manner. We will inform parents and carers of any deviation from our published policy in advance, and share any relevant materials on request.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life, taking care to make sure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances (i.e. families can include single-parent families, same-sex parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents and foster parents among other structures), along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example, looked-after children, young carers or kinship carers).

Across our school, we will also be mindful of the law and legal requirements, taking care not to condone or encourage illegal activity, such as violent action against people, criminal damage to property or hate crime.

7. Roles and responsibilities

7.1 The governing board

The governing board will approve the RSE policy, and hold the headteacher to account for its implementation.

7.2 The headteacher

The headteacher is responsible for ensuring that RSE is taught consistently across the school, and for managing requests to withdraw pupils from non-science components of RSE (see section 8).

7.3 Staff

Staff are responsible for:

- › Delivering RSE in a sensitive way
- › Modelling positive attitudes to RSE
- › Monitoring progress
- › Responding to the needs of individual pupils
- › Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from the non-science components of RSE
- › Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSE are encouraged to discuss this with the headteacher.

7.4 Pupils

Pupils are expected to engage fully in RSE and, when discussing issues related to RSE, treat others with respect and sensitivity.

8. Parents' right to withdraw

Parents have the right to withdraw their children from the non-science components of sex education within RSE up to and until 3 terms before the child turns 16. After this point, if the child wishes to receive sex education rather than being withdrawn, the school will arrange this. Parents do not have the right to withdraw their children from any Physical Health, Mental Wellbeing or Relationships content.

Government guidance defines sex education as instruction on human sexual anatomy, sexual reproduction and sexual intercourse. This does not include teaching of adult relationships, LGBTQAI+ and gender issues, reproductive health (including contraception), emotional relations, reproductive rights and responsibilities, abstinence, and birth control.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 3 of this policy and addressed to the headteacher.

A copy of withdrawal requests will be placed in the pupil's educational record. The headteacher will discuss the request with parents and take appropriate action. When the headteacher receives such a letter he will invite the parents/carers to a meeting, at which the headteacher will explain clearly what the school's policy is and seek to accommodate the wishes and/or concerns of the parents/carers. If that is not possible the pupil will be withdrawn from RSE and placed in another class where suitable work and supervision will be provided.

9. Training

Staff are trained on the delivery of RSE as part of their induction and it is included in our continuing professional development calendar.

The headteacher will also invite visitors from outside the school, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff teaching RSE.

10. Monitoring arrangements

The delivery of RSE is monitored by the Head of PSHE, Timothy Chappelle, whose responsibility is to:

- › Ensure that RSE is covered in the schemes of work for Learning for Life
- › Monitor the use of teaching and learning styles through learning walks
- › Monitor the use of teaching materials through work scrutiny
- › Evaluate the effectiveness of the schools programme
- › Ensure the content is age appropriate.

Pupils' development in RSE is monitored by class teachers as part of our internal assessment systems.

This policy will be reviewed and approved by the governing body annually.

11. Dissemination of the policy

..... (Name of appropriate member of staff) will:

- Disseminate a copy of this policy to all staff members, governors and PTA committee members
- Provide/organise relevant and regular training to staff on the policy content (this could be delivered by Manchester Healthy Schools)
- Ensure that copies of the RSE policy are available from the school office and on the website for parents to access on request
- Include a summary of the RSE policy in the school prospectus
